

MEETING FATE VERY BRAVELY

General Stoessle Does Not Give Up Hopes of Having Troops Enough To Save the City.

INNER FORTS CAPTURED TODAY

Taking Desperate Chances--The Japanese Watching All Sea Ports for Any Trace of the Missing Russian Ships.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
Chefoo, Aug. 19.—Two Japanese destroyers of the fleet left the harbor at five-thirty this morning, remained a half hour and then sailed away. Five more destroyers are reported steaming around the outside harbor. The object of the visit is unknown.

Another Fight.
Mukden, Aug. 19.—A battle in the neighborhood of Liao Yang is imminent. The Japanese advanced within twenty miles of Liao Yang and skirmishes at outposts are constant.

Sink Boat.
Chefoo, Aug. 19.—A Russian gunboat of the Okeashni type struck a mine off Liao Tshan yesterday evening and sank. The Japanese are said to have captured the inner forts three and four at Port Arthur.

Extinction.
London, Aug. 19.—Extinction is the peril facing Port Arthur's thousands of defenders and noncombatants as the result of General Stoessle's refusal to surrender.

The receipt of the Russian Commander's message was the signal for an outbreak of shell fire from the more than 400 heavy guns which encircle the city of a murderous intensity more appalling than any previous bombardment.

With greater ardor than every the enormous force of Japanese sappers and miners resumed their operations looking to the blowing up of the fortress, and that humanity is to be staggered by the events of the next few days seems certain.

News from Chefoo indicates that Port Arthur will withstand assault just like Sebastopol—until riven and shattered by the deadliest avalanche of shot and shell ever poured into a besieged city.

General Stoessle's refusal to surrender has not surprised the official staff at St. Petersburg, although they admit the doom of the fortress is sealed and no power on earth can save it from falling into the hands of the Japanese.

Passengers on the steamer Decima, which anchored off Port Arthur the night of August 18, witnessed the bombardment from Pigeon Bay. The Japanese shells were visible during their whole course. They circled about like the town, and their explosions were marked by great splashes of fire which shot up to the sky.

The bombardment from this and other points began at midnight and lasted until morning. The Russians did not reply to the Japanese fire.

Major Seaman, formerly a surgeon in the American army, was a passenger on the Decima. He says the spectacle of the bombardment was most brilliant and awe-inspiring. The Decima weighed anchor from Port Arthur at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. At some distance out she saw five Japanese warships guarding the harbor.

Desperate Attack.

London, Aug. 19.—In a desperate attack on Port Arthur, made immediately after the refusal of General Stoessle to surrender, 5,000 Japanese soldiers are declared to have been killed. The refusal to surrender is believed to have been the signal for the Japanese to attempt the extermination of the whole garrison. The report as to the heavy Japanese attack on Wednesday's attack was called to the post of Berlin.

The news of General Stoessle's refusal to surrender is confirmed by an official announcement of the rejection called by United States Minister Gresham from Tokyo to the State Department at Washington. He says the Japanese offer for the removal of noncombatants also was rejected. An official dispatch from Viceoy Alexiev to the Czar states that the losses to the Siberian squadron, excluding the Amur, were 125 killed and 350 wounded.

The commander of a Japanese squadron watching off Shanghai is ready to steam up the river and take or destroy the Russian protector cruiser Azhdah and torpedo boat destroyer Grevol unless China forces those vessels to leave the fort forthwith.

Stand Pat.
London, Aug. 19.—Japan has officially notified Great Britain that she does not propose to give up the Russian destroyer Ryevich, captured in the harbor of Chefoo August 12.

Beyond representing to China the importance of preserving the neutrality of her territory Great Britain has taken no action in regard to the Russian cruiser Askold and the torpedo boat destroyer Grevol, now at Shanghai. The question of the disposition of these ships is looked upon as peculiarly a matter which concerns Japan, Russia and China. Symmetry is felt for the efforts of Japan to prevent the two vessels from again participating in the war.

If Russia maintains her purpose to dismantle them it is expected that Japanese naval officers will be permitted to examine the vessels and assure themselves that they are really disarmed and dismantled, as was done at Tsingchow in the case of the Russian battleship Czarevitch and the three torpedo-boat destroyers there.

Go By Cape Horn.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 19.—The report was reiterated last evening that the first detachment of the Russian Baltic fleet sailed yesterday for the Far East from Liban and that the vessels will proceed via Cape Horn. The second detachment, it is reported, is prepared to leave Kronstadt September 3 in command of Admiral Rojestvensky.

Have Sailed Now.

London, Aug. 19.—Renter's received a report that eleven ships of the Baltic squadron left Liban for the Far East Monday.

Entered Harbor.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Consul Fowler, at Chefoo, enables that two Japanese torpedo boat destroyers entered the harbor yesterday while several Japanese cruisers remained outside. On their return they ran across a steamer, nationality unknown, and seized her.

Rain of Jap Shells.

The fury of the Japanese attack cannot be imagined. Passengers on vessels which passed close to Port Arthur yesterday evening declare that the air is black with the rain of shells poured into the fortress.

The devastation wrought by the bombardment is appalling. Inside the harbor the sea is like a cauldron of boiling water. Shells fall like hail among the shipping, and many of the vessels in the harbor are afire. The entire city is deserted. The inhabitants are either fighting in the trenches, or have sought what protection is afforded by the bomb proof caves dug in the sides of the hills.

Russian Guns Are Silent.

The reply of the Russian guns to the Japanese fire is strikingly weak, but the Japanese losses have been already heavy. Many of the huge batteries on the hillside are silent, their guns shattered by the Japanese fire and their gun crews slain. The Red Cross flag offers no protection to the hospital, which is crowded with wounded and dying.

How long the citadel can hold out against the pillage avalanche of murderous shells poured into it by the Japanese gunners, in response to the military order to take the fortress at any cost, cannot be foretold, but last night it was already reeling and tottering in its death throes.

Mikado Loses 20,000 Men.

A battle of huge proportions raged around Port Arthur Aug. 14 and 15, and was resumed Aug. 17. The Japanese, it is reported, sacrificed 20,000 more men, but gained important advantages in the matter of position.

The above news was brought here on Japiks, one of which, having on board three Russians concealed in the baggage of Chinese to escape from the Japanese, left Port Arthur Thursday night, and was blown rapidly to Chefoo by a gale. The main force of the attack was directed against the left wing, and resulted in the capture of Pigeon Bay positions and some of the forts at Liao Tse Shan. At Pailin Chang the Japanese hastily mounted guns, which did excellent service in aiding the storming of the right wing, where the Japanese are said to have captured two forts of minor value, mounting eight four inch guns, two siege guns, and six quick firing guns.

Offer Terms to Stoessle.

On the night of the 15th the battle lulled somewhat, when the Japanese sent the terms of surrender to Lieut. Gen. Stoessle. The terms provided that the garrison should march out with the honors of war and John Gen. Kuropatkin; that all civilians be brought to a place designated by the Japanese Admiral; that the Russian warships in the harbor, numbering seven—namely, the battleships Retzian, Sevastopol, Pobieda, Peresviet, Poltava, the armored cruiser Bayan, and the protected cruiser Pallada, and twelve or more torpedo boat destroyers and four gunboats be surrendered to the Japanese.

Russian Answers in Oath.

Lieut. Gen. Stoessle is alleged to have received the terms with a burst of wonderful profanity, his habitual taciturnity deserting him. He strode the floor until he became calmer, and then remarked that if the Japanese proposition was a joke it was in bad taste.

RELENTS AFTER ELEVEN MONTHS

Minnesota Farmer Finally Pays What Is Ordered and Leaves Dane County.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., August 19.—William Burham, of Perham, Minn., after lying in the Dane county jail for eleven months for not paying taxes on a tract of land, will shortly be released. His brother from Perham and an attorney have reached an agreement with the attorneys of Burham's divorced child wife according to which Burham is to settle a judgment for alimony and suit money and gain his freedom.

Burham owns a farm at Perham, Minn. He came to Madison and married a 15-year-old girl, taking her to the farm, where it has been established in a divorce court. He made a veritable slave of her until she ran away and returned to Madison. She instituted successful divorce proceedings. He followed her to Madison and was confronted with a court order to pay suit money and maintenance amounting to $200, which he profusely refused to pay, demanding the arrest of the girl. For cursing the Dane county court he was thrust into jail. He declared he would "rot in jail before he would give his wife's lawyers a cent." After confinement for 11 months he has obtained and will satisfy the demands of his former wife. It is understood the farm at Perham has practically passed from his possession since his absence.

ALFRED KNAPP DIED CALMLY

Modern Blue Beard Passes Away in Electrical Chair Just After Midnight This Morning.

IS DEAD IN JUST SEVEN MINUTES

Apparatus Works Smoothly, and the Wife Murderer and Self Confessed Murderer of Six Persons, Is No More.

Columbus, O., Aug. 19.—Alfred A. Knapp, the convicted murderer of his wife, Hannah Goddard Knapp, and the confessed murderer of five other persons, was electrocuted in the annex at the Ohio penitentiary a few minutes after midnight Friday morning. Knapp weakened when he found his last hope for life had gone, and expressed a fear that he would have to be carried to the death chair, but regained his nerve and met his fate with little show of fear or emotion. The electrocution was performed without a hitch, the first shock being applied at 12:02, the second a minute later, and at 12:09 he was pronounced dead.

Knapp's First Crime.

Knapp, who was born at Greensburg, Ind., in 1862, and for twenty years lived on a farm, committed his first criminal act, a burglary, in Chicago in 1882. He served a sentence at Joliet for that offense. Most of his offenses were against women and children and he spent more than half of the past twenty-two years behind prison bars. But for a chance word, dropped unconsciously, his last crime would probably never have been traced to him.

Shortly after his release from Joliet in 1884 he married Emma Stubbs at Terre Haute, Ind., but was divorced from her within the year. In 1886 he married Jennie Connors at Lawrenceburg, Ind. Between 1886 and 1891 Knapp was confined in the penitentiaries in Jeffersonville and Michigan City, and shortly after his release, according to his story, he murdered Emma Littleman in a lumber yard on East street, Cincinnati.

Knapp claimed to have killed May Eckert on Walnut street, opposite the Y. M. C. A. building, Cincinnati, in 1894.

Find Victim in Canal.

Later, in August of that year, the body of Jennie Connors Knapp was found in a canal at Cincinnati, the circumstances pointing to suicide, and a verdict was so rendered. Knapp claimed he killed her on Aug. 7 and threw the body into the canal.

In 1895 Ida Geppert was murdered in Indianapolis, and Knapp claims to have killed her. Afterward Knapp returned to Cincinnati, and in 1896 married Hannah Goddard, with whom he lived six months.

In 1897 he again appeared in Indianapolis and was sentenced to the Michigan City penitentiary for an assault on his cousin, Alice Hill. Two years later he was sentenced to the Columbus penitentiary from Cincinnati for two years upon a charge of assault.

In 1892 he was released and returned to his wife, then living in Hamilton, Ohio. On Dec. 22 his wife mysteriously disappeared. Shortly afterward Knapp went to Indianapolis.

On Feb. 21, 1903, Mrs. Edward King of Cumminsville, near Cincinnati, notified the Hamilton police that Knapp's wife was missing and that he had married Anna Gamble at Indianapolis. Knapp was arrested there on April 25, 1903.

From Bigamy to Murder.

He was released to Hamilton in the belief that the charge against him was bigamy. Once in the Hamilton jail he was openly charged with the murder of his wife. At first he stoutly denied it, though claiming to know that she was dead. Pressed for explanation by Mayor Charles S. Bosh, he finally made a confession, in which he admitted killing his wife, and said that he put her body in a dry goods box and threw it into the Big Miami river. Subsequently he made a written confession, naming the four other murders.

Later the box was discovered in the Ohio river below Cincinnati and the ring upon one of the fingers. Knapp was speedily tried, found guilty and sentenced to be electrocuted.

Uncle of the Kidnaped Youngster Discovers Him Walking About Near His Home.

New York, Aug. 19.—Antonio Mannino, the 10-year-old Brooklyn boy who was thought to have been kidnaped by members of the Italian Black Hand society, was found at 12:10 o'clock Friday morning in Columbia street, three blocks from his home. He was found by his uncle, Salvatore Mannino. When the boy's parents saw the lad brought home by the uncle, his father fainted and remained unconscious for some time. Mrs. Mannino became hysterical.

Salvatore Mannino immediately notified the police of the Amity street station and Antonio was taken to the station and closely questioned. He said that ever since he had been taken away he had lived in a large house, the location of which he did not know.

"There was a lady there," he said, "and she had a girl named Judy."

"The Girl From Dixie" Guaranteed

At an early hour this morning the interior of the Myers theater was a scene of unexampled activity and excitement. Decorators were at work with the last finishing touches—hanging the draperies, replacing and polishing the box-rails and attending to innumerable things in order that no oversight mar the delight of those who will see the playhouse in its attractive new habit. And they are attractive. The encircling walls in their rich garment of empire red setting off the woodwork, the stucco, the grillwork, with the pillars, done in Indian yellow, with trimmings of gold and touches of a faint elusive green; the three domes and the sounding board above with garlands of roses resting on airy black grounds of pale blue; and finally the proscenium arch in old ivory and gold; all combine to produce an impression of vagabond luxuriance, restfulness, and warmth. The Southern Pacific roadbed is being oiled from Yuma to El Paso, the length of the Tucson division. Already 40 miles of track has been oiled east of Maricopa Junction, and those who have passed over the oiled section say that the dustless ride is very enjoyable. Three hundred and eighty-two miles of track is to be oiled, most all of the roadbed between Tucson and Yuma having been treated up to this time. Of course, there is considerable of the trackage to be oiled, some portions not requiring treatment, as also the points where bridges are in evidence. Superintendent Jones said that 15 miles of the Maricopa and Phoenix railway line would be treated to doses of the oleaginuous, the other 20 miles not requiring treatment. The International from Benson to Nogales will be treated at points where found necessary. Four thousand gallons of oil are used per mile, that being the average.

It is pretty well determined that the number of people who lost their lives in the train wreck at Elton, Colo., will reach 100. This is a small death toll beside those created by the steamboat and theater horrors of the past seven or eight months, and so has failed to impress the popular mind greatly. The fact is, however, as stated by the Railroad Gazette, which has long kept a

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Today the Teachers' Institute has closed, where for two weeks, we've been learning the latest methods. That the modern teacher seeks.

We've learned 'tis not the frowning face
That drives idleness away;
But 'tis interest in their school work,
That makes boys cease to play.

Though we may close the school-room door,
And reign supreme in there,
We've learned that not to tyrannize,
We must use exceeding care.

We've been taught how to draw Europe,
In just about a minute,
We all delight in teacher's praise,
And here worked hard to win it.

We've been taught how to draw Euclid,
The timid, young beginners;
Ah, when we draw that Xmas tree,
Won't there be many grinders!

We went to hear the lectures,
And tried so hard to show
That they who say: "Up nights—no school,"
Really do not know.

We went to see how shoes were made,
Despite the real warm weather;
And smiled and thought: "Besides
our shoes,
The strap is made of leather."
Yes, the institute has closed today,
And may another year
Bring back the same conditions,
Who have taught us so much here.

SOUNDING KNEEL OF SUMMER'S PASSING

Thrashing Machines Are Making Short Work of the Ripened Grain.

Out in the fields summer's passing is signalled in clear cut tones these days by the whirl of the thrashing machines. Some of the owners of these field music-boxes are making exceptional records. In four hours' time Saturday afternoon B. L. Gower of La Prairie threshed 2,000 bushels of grain. On the forenoon of the same day he threshed for the same man 600 bushels of rye and barley. The grain was owned by R. Kemmerer and the service cost the latter $56. The wages of men and cost of teams employed added to the cost of coal used made the farmer's expenses about $100 for the day. On Monday of this week seven thrashing machines were running at one time in the towns of La Prairie and Harmony. The machines were all less than a mile distant from one another.

Coming Attractions.

Sam S. Shubert's company, presenting Harry H. Smith's "A Girl from Dixie" comes to the Myers Grand, tonight as the opening attraction of the season. The plot of "A Girl from Dixie" revolves around the fortunes which befalls a mistake, has been given to Kitty Calvert. Kitty is a Southern girl, and when the play begins she is attending a district school at Tamarack, N. D. Nick Calvert, her cousin, knows that the fortune given Kitty is his by right, but refuses to claim it. The greater portion of the plot of the play hinges on this event. The sketch is finally untangled of course, and everything ends happily. Kitty's good fortune is made the occasion of a celebration by Jack Randolph, professor of everything in the grammar school, Squire Mink of Tamarack bar, legal and otherwise, and the pupils of the school, especially Maud Mabel Earle, Kitty's bosom friend, to say nothing of Ludwig Kagenboden, German musician, the stepfather of Kitty. To Tamarack comes Lord Dunsmore—"absent matrimony"—who promptly falls in love with the young heiress. The locale of the second act shifts to New York, where Kitty is established as heiress of wealth and position. Here she is visited by some of her old friends, thus affording an opportunity for a number of humorous situations. There at least are twenty catchy hits which will be whistled on the street as soon as heard. The entire New York production will all be in evidence with the original electrical effects as used during its successful run of three months in New York. The local management announces this is one of their star attractions of the season.

VERDICT OF THE PARTY

From the report of the Committee on Credentials to the REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, which was unanimously adopted by that convention, June 25th, 1904.

Your committee report it to be their final judgment that the convention which elected said John D. Spooner, J. V. Quinlan, J. W. Babcock and Emil Baensch as delegates at large, and their alternates at large, to this convention from the state of Wisconsin WAS THE REGULAR CONVENTION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN WISCONSIN, and that the delegates elected by it are the regular elected delegates at large from the state of Wisconsin to the republican convention, and, as such, are entitled to seats in this convention.

WHICH WAS RIGHT?

Charles W. Godfrey, of Buffalo, a man of whom Grover Cleveland spoke recently in the highest terms as an ideal Democratic candidate for Governor, said on August 5th, of a charge that he was not a Democrat in good and regular standing, because he had twice bolted Bryan:

I have never sought to conceal the fact that I voted against Mr. Bryan and if I had it all to do over again I should vote against him. I voted for Mr. McKinley for several reasons. I believed that some of the planks of the Chicago platform, if they ever should become effective, would be ruinous to the country, and that the best way to defeat Mr. Bryan and the principles he stood for was to vote for Mr. McKinley and I did it. And I don't want any misunderstanding about it, either.

If I should decide to become a candidate, I'll make the hardest kind of a fight for the nomination that I know how to make, but I won't stand for any lying or concealment as to whom I have voted for or what principles I have been willing to accept as good American. This is a manly and straight forward declaration, and it represents accurately the attitude of what is known as the Cleveland democracy in the state of New York. How does it bear on Judge Parker's position in the past? Here is his definition of that position as he himself has written it down.

Mr. Dear Danforth: It was entirely right for you to bring to my attention the question which the sincere friends of Mr. Bryan are pressing upon you. I can say to you frankly and sincerely that you can assure them that I voted for the last national nominees of the Democratic party, as I have voted for all the regular Democratic nominees since I had a vote. Yours very sincerely, Alton B. Parker, Sept. 22, 1897.

It is understood also that Parker voted for Bryan again in 1900. In fact he said nothing to indicate that he was still faithful to Bryan and silver till he sent his telegram to the St. Louis convention after he had been nominated. If Mr. Godfrey's position is manly and straight-forward before he has received a nomination, if he was right from a democratic point of view in bolting Bryan in 1896 and in 1900, what is to be said of Parker's acts in those years and of his conduct this year? Can Godfrey be praised without rebuking Parker? Would Parker, after Godfrey's statement, favor his nomination as the Democratic candidate for Governor? If not, why not?

DO YOU WANT A CHANGE?

Democratic campaign managers and orators are trying to convince the voters of the nation that the time is ripe for a "change." Every petty grievance against the party in power is magnified and every possible bugaboo concerning future developments is raised and waived in an effort to make the people believe that their interests and their welfare will be best subserved by abandoning Republican policies and adopting Democratic. The Democratic party completed a four years term of power in 1896, and it may interest the voter, who is thinking the country needs a "change" to contrast the business of the nation in 1896 with that of 1904. The figures quoted are for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1904.

Merchandise exports in 1896 were $882,000,000 as against $1,460,000,000 in 1904. Do you want a change? The favorable balance of trade in Democratic 1896 was $102,000,000 as against $470,000,000 in Republican 1904. Do you want a change? We imported $33,000,000 in gold in 1896 as compared with $99,000,000 in 1904, and we exported $112,000,000 in 1896 as against $81,000,000 in 1904. Do you want a change?

Our total foreign commerce in Democratic 1896 was $1,501,000,000 as compared with $2,451,000,000 in Republican 1904. Do you want a change?

The bank deposits in December, 1896, amounted to $4,945,000,000 as compared with $9,530,000,000 in December, 1903. Do you want a change? It is a little strange that Mr. Littleton who placed Judge Parker in nomination at St. Louis, in a speech which was submitted in advance to Judge Parker, had nothing to say about his candidate's financial views. It would have been a courageous thing to have announced them at the time, but it would have undoubtedly resulted in the nomination of another candidate.

Chairman Taggart is filling places on his executive committee with the old time Democrats. He is apparently guided more by Judge Parker's telegram than by the declarations of his party's platform.

The Democratic party was only eight years behind on the money question. It may be wise to the tariff in another eight or twelve years.

A man who is not well known himself must be judged by his advisors. If Judge Parker is elected President, we must infer that his associates and advisers will be David B. Hill and August Belmont.

If you believe the Democrats are in favor of the gold standard, call a roll of the Democratic State conventions that have so declared this year.

The President has shown that he is for the right. It makes no difference to him on whose side is the right. And the American people hate a coward.

Col. Bryan says he will support Judge Parker after September 30. He figures, probably, that it will take him that long to get a proper edge on his hatchet.

The Democrats are clamoring for "a change." They ask the voters to change a certainty for an uncertainty.

Mr. Bryan does not believe that the country is ready for a change, but he is already planning to offer one in 1908.

It must be remembered that Judge Parker approved the New York Democratic platform which did not mention the gold standard.

Democratic managers express greatest confidence of the result in the coming elections. Democratic hopes always blossom until the first light frost of November.

It is going to require something more than specious pleading to induce the American voter to take light frost of November.

PRESS COMMENT

Madison Journal: Some men have had monkey ancestors, but those who are always bawling in probably descended from goats.

La Crosse Chronicle: Wisconsin takes a back seat for none in a Grand Army reunion. They can't forget the Iron Brigade, Gen. Bragg, and Gen. Fairchild.

Green Bay Gazette: It keeps the Free Press busy these days denying that the stalwarts have scored in the first bolt before the supreme court. Never mind, the fun has just begun and the Free Press will have its hands full explaining things before long.

Grant County Herald: The Philippine Islands cost this country 1500 acres, including seven heathen per acre, and there are single trees growing in the islands which would sell for $1,000 in this country.

El Paso Herald: An old pamphlet circulating in Russia, to which the official censor has not opposed any objection, proposes a scheme for catching Chinamen and distributing them throughout the country as slaves.

Chicago Tribune: It is reported that Dr. Alton B. Parker will deliver a series of campaign speeches. Having made no vow to the contrary in his speech of acceptance, if we remember rightly, the good doctor should feel perfectly free to discomfiter himself of the thoughts that still struggle for utterance.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: This might do for the refrain of a Taggartian campaign song: "Oh, Alton Brooks, too many cooks will spoil the broth of Parker; each stir that's made, each play that's played, but makes our prospect darker." It might be improved upon for metre but it is unassailable as to fact.

Chicago Inter-Ocean: The immigration bureau at Washington lets it be known that its agents will in no way obstruct Mrs. Maybrick's landing, but will give her every facility and courtesy due to an American citizen. The announcement is as official as the clamor that evoked it was foolish. For the immigration bureau to assert that it will do merely its legal duty and nothing else is to answer fools according to their folly.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The state administration is rotten to the core, but with a supreme contempt for his obligations as the head of the state government, the governor continues to preach his alleged "reforms" and ignore the demand that he render an account of his stewardship. It is all very well to talk about diverting "the attention of the people from the issues of the campaign" by a great noise about state expenditures; but there will be a day of settlement and no amount of juggling with the records will cover the facts in relation to "state expenditures." The men who are responsible for some of those "expenditures" will be fortunate if they are not called upon to defend themselves in the courts.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE ADDRESS

BISHOP M'CABE HAS STIRRED UP
THE NEWSPAPERS.

SPEAKS HERE THIS EVENING

Annual Meeting of the Janesville District of the Epworth League.

This morning the Chicago Record-Herald prints the following editorial on the statements made by Bishop McCabe as printed in the Gazette yesterday afternoon. The prominence which has been given these statements will doubtless draw a large audience to the Central Methodist church this evening to hear the address of this talented man at the annual meeting of the Janesville District convention of the Christian Endeavor. These sessions open this afternoon and continue through Sunday. The following is the editorial referred to:

The Editorial.
Bishop McCabe is deeply and justly stirred by the wrongs of the Armenians. These unhappy people have suffered long under Turkish misrule, and have gained little thus far by such direction as European powers have exercised over Turkish affairs. Persecution, in fact, has been frightfully common during the last decade. Massacre has followed massacre, and even after promises of reform had been demanded of and given by the sultan the slaughter continued. Such estimates as are obtainable put the loss of life at many thousands, and the victims include a large number of women and children.

The briefest recital of the atrocities must excite both sympathy for the Armenians and horror of the Turk. But when the bishop suggests that the United States should go to war to force a general grant of religious liberty from the Turk and that it should form an alliance with England to demand religious liberty all over the world, on the ground that "God often uses the sinner to go ahead and prepare the way for His religious work and the uplifting of the people," he leads us into difficult and dangerous paths.

Not America Alone.
If, for example, we should confine ourselves to the Armenian question, we shall find that it is intricate enough with the ordinary questions of sovereignty, and that it is complicated by what is going on in territory not under Turkish rule. For there are many Armenians who are governed by Russia, and they have a distinct religious grievance in the fact that an imperial decree was issued last year which commanded that the property of the Armenian churches should be handed over to the government. This was said to be part of a general plan of Russification, and its significance was thus pointed out:

Employ Revenues.
Formerly the people themselves, by the agency of men in whom they had confidence, managed the property of the churches. The greater part of the revenues were employed to maintain educational and charitable institutions. It was only the smaller part which served to pay the clergy, and the priest considered himself as employed by and as being at the service of his flock. Now, on the contrary, it is proposed to make the priest a state official and the obedient servant of the czar. The independence of the Armenian church is to be entirely abolished, the voice of the people forever silenced, and the clergy are to become the blind and subservient agents of the czar's government.

Is in Russia.
As in Turkish territory, so in Russia, the national aspirations of the Armenians are brought into the controversy, but we merely note the reactionary movement from liberty to servitude, which provoked riot and bloodshed, and would ask if the United States and England should have interposed a veto? Indeed the principle carries us so far as regards the question of religious liberty alone that it is difficult to tell where to stop. There are many to whom the French association bill and its administration must seem a tyrannical invasion of religious liberty. Must the United States and England co-erce the French government on that account? Whence comes their authority, and how is "the whole Christian world" to act as a unit in these matters?

One-Arm Golfers.

Cases are met with from time to time where the loss of a limb neither destroys the pleasure derivable from golf nor the ability to play it really well. "The Kink" recalls that there used to be two one-arm golfers at Leven, in Fife, each of whom could play a really excellent scratch game. Another instance of genuine enthusiasm combined with adaptability occurred the other day at St. Andrews, where, in a competition for prizes among the staff employed at the railway station, Thomas Anderson, a one-arm player, won the first prize with the excellent score of ninety.

Arabia's Laughing Plant.

There is a "laughing plant" that grows in Arabia. It gets its name from the effect upon the people who eat its seeds. The natives in the district where the plants grow dry these seeds and make them into a powder. A small dose of these causes the most staid and sober person to dance and shout and sing, and act almost like a madman for an hour. After this the victim falls into a deep sleep, and when he awakes, after several hours, he has no recollection of his antics.

Waste Sugar Cane.

It is suggested that the waste sugar cane in Hawaii—more than 2,000,000 tons a year—which is now consumed as fuel, could be more profitably used for the manufacture of paper.

Historic Toll Gate Still in Use.

On one of the roads leading out of Hudson, N. Y., stands a tollgate built in 1798. It is still in active service and is one of the very few of its kind in America today. The company that built it was given a perpetual charter, and that is why travelers are still halted before the bars. It costs 5 cents to drive a two-horse team through it, and 2 cents for a one-horse carriage. Such ancient men as Martin Van Buren and Samuel J. Tilden have yielded up tribute at the gate, and the sons and daughters of certain of the old New York families have passed through it to their own weddings and those of their kin.

Education of Indian Girls.

In India only about 3 per cent of the girls attend public school, but the government of India in its educational resolution states that in trying to promote the education of girls a far greater proportional impulse is imparted to the educational and moral tone of the people than by the education of the men.

ANOTHER STORE TO OPEN SOON

Herman Holme to Open Dry Goods
Store Where The Burns' Store
Is Now Located.

Leases were signed yesterday by which Herman Holme, of Minneapolis, secured possession of the store now occupied by T. P. Burns.

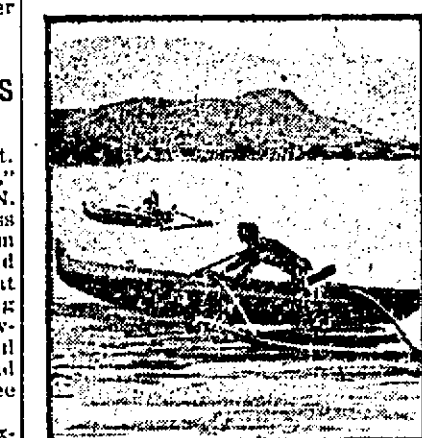

Mr. Holme will open a complete dry goods establishment and will become identified permanently with the business interests of Janesville. Until recently Mr. Holme has been traveling salesman for a New York importing house, and prior to that was connected for a number of years with D. Donaldson & Co., a large dry goods store at Minneapolis. Mr. Holme is an all around dry goods man of some 16 years' experience and has just returned from the east where he has just purchased a large and well assorted stock of fall merchandise. The new store and stock will be in readiness for inspection. It is hoped, at an early date in September, and it will be Mr. Holme's aim to carry a stock which will be strictly reliable and up-to-date in every respect and at prices which will deservedly merit the patronage of the public of Janesville and vicinity.

CANOES OF THE KANAKAS.

Construction Considered a Matter of Much Importance.

The early Kanakas built their fast sailing canoes out of the body of a single tree, hollowing it out, and staying the edges with strips of hard wood; these strips extended to the ends, and covered a space at both stem and stern. The triangular sails were made of fine matting, and the little craft was steered by an outrigger. The ruling chiefs and their families traveled in large double canoes, with a raised platform in the center for passengers.

The building of a canoe was a very serious business. Offerings were made to the gods, and prayers were especially addressed to the fisherman's tutelary saint. A priest finally stood with the owner at the bow of the canoe and recited the last prayer in unbroken silence; death and disaster were sure to follow if any extraneous noise disturbed the scene.

Two weary countrymen entered a pawnbroker's establishment near the Broad Street Station yesterday morning. Each had hold of one end of a very cheap looking trunk.

"We want $2," said the spokesman of the pair. "What's in the trunk?" they were asked. Oh, nothing worth anything," was the reply. "But we are broke, and one of us must get to Lancaster after money and get back with it this afternoon for sure. If the trunk is not worth $2 this buddy of mine will sit on it here until I get back, and you can hold him as security." The pawnbroker was so astonished at this proposition that he broke all the rules of his establishment and gave up the sum demanded.

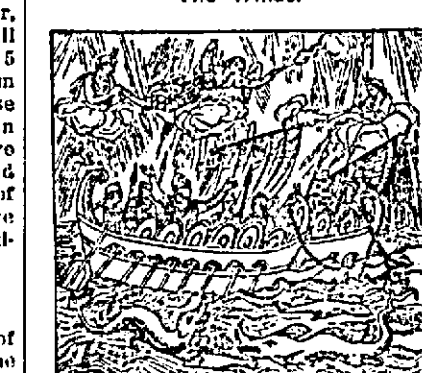

One of the countrymen at once made a rapid break for the railroad station, while the other, despite the broker's protest that it wasn't necessary, sat philosophically on the trunk until seven hours had passed and his friend came in triumphantly with a fat roll of bills.—Philadelphia Record.

Wayside Inn for Geese.

Years before the war Daniel Scott, the owner of "Scotland's" plantation, in Albemarle County, Va., began the custom of feeding flocks of wild geese each Spring and Summer on their semi-annual migrations. The custom has continued to this day, being kept up by the descendants of Mr. Scott. He had a special garment which he donned when feeding the hungry birds, and in this they invariably recognized him.

The children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren of the first geese must have been well instructed in regard to this "wayside inn" for they always tarry there to get provisions. United States Senator Thomas S. Martin is the present owner of "Scotland's."

MONKEY GOT THE NUT.

Hooked It With Aid of Straw and Then Picked It Up.

An extraordinary instance of animal intelligence has recently been recorded as having been shown in the Royal park, Melbourne, Australia.

"I was watching some monkeys," says Mr. Thomas Hutton of Tyne-mouth, "in a large cage, when one of them came to the front and tried to reach a nut which had been thrown and was lying on the gravel path. Putting its arm through the bars and stretching as far as possible, it found that the nut was just beyond its reach.

"There was straw on the floor of the cage, and, going to the back where it evidently expected to find the straw less damaged, it tested straw after straw, discarding one by one, not thinking them strong enough for the purpose.

"At last it found a satisfactory one, returned with it to the front of the cage, and very quickly, with this aid, hooked the nut close enough to be picked up."—Family Herald.

An Owl's Love for Music.

"In my son's junior year at Harvard," says John Burroughs, the naturalist, "it became the custom in May and June to give frequent band concerts in the evening on the steps of University hall. Exactly over the band was a flagpole, fastened at an angle to the building. On the gilded ball of the flagpole there would come and perch, soon after the concert began, a little screech owl. After the music ceased and the crowd dispersed the little owl would fly away again. So regularly did the owl come with his noiseless, muffled flight that my son came to look for him and to speculate how long the band would have to play before he would be attracted by the music. Many persons saw him, yet he appeared to take no notice of the yard full of people, but seemed to enjoy the music, as far as his attitude and actions betrayed his feelings, as much as did any one. Certainly the love for music, so strong in man, must find its beginning in the lower forms of life."

EXODUS OF NEGROES FROM GEORGIA'S SOIL

Blacks Desert Scene of Recent Burning, Threatening Shortage of Labor in the Cotton Fields.

Statesboro, Ga., Aug. 19.—Beyond the whipping of a number of negroes in this county and of one at Claxton, about twenty-five miles from here, nothing has developed in the situation in this part of Georgia. The exodus of negroes continues and already has threatened a shortage in the labor supply in the cotton fields, where the picking is soon to commence.

Exaggerated reports have been sent from here since the burning of the negroes Reed and Cato. These reports have created the impression abroad that life is unsafe and property threatened. The contrary is true, for the lesson has made a profound impression on the negroes.

No violence has been directed against the better class of negroes. There is evidence that irresponsible marauders have committed some of the violence, as the shooting of an aged negro, Roberts, and his son, in their cabin, has been deprecated by all. He had lived seventy years in the community.

The question most discussed is the alleged mismanagement of the troops during the trial of the negroes Reed and Cato. A noncommissioned officer of the local military company declared that two officers of his company have prepared their resignations to the governor and that a majority of the company has asked for dismissal from the service. This officer declared that the members of the company were required to give up the loaded cartridges that had been issued and that other and smaller cartridges were issued to less than a half-dozen members of the company. He said orders were given that there should be no firing.

BOY HANGS BY HEELS TO A RISING AIRSHIP

Becomes Entangled in Ropes of Balloon as It Is About to Ascend, But Lands in Safety.

Sparta, Wis., Aug. 19.—A boy carried by the heels 200 feet into the air by an ascending balloon was the closing incident at the Sparta fair Thursday. The boy came to earth uninjured and afterward told the aeronaut that he would make the trip with him again.

Oscar Frederick, 14 years old, watching the filling of the big gas balloon, became entangled in the ropes of the bag. When the balloon was cut loose the boy was carried up with it feet first.

While the boy was wriggling and screaming for help Aeronaut Henry, was smiling and bowing to the crowd. Women and girls fainted. Some tried to shout to the aeronaut, but they could not make him understand. At last he heard the boy and looking up he told the little fellow to turn his face up and not look at the ground. After the parachute had risen 200 feet into the air Henry opened the valves of the balloon and came gently to the earth.

Horse Talk, Running, Trotting

The Thoroughbreds Dick Welles and Ort Wells, Two Full Brothers of Great Merit -- Nancy Hanks' Foal -- Charter Oak Stakes.

Probably the older generation of turf students may recall two full brothers of equal merit to Dick Welles and Ort Wells, but the younger generation of race goers and students of pedigree is unable to do so. Certainly not two full brothers only a year apart. In the east Ort Wells has been all the rage. He is pronounced by some to be the greatest three-year-old possibly that the American turf has known.

In the west there is no disposition to believe Ort Wells is as fast as Dick Welles was for a mile, although it must be conceded the younger brother has shown an ability to go a route and pack along his weight that never was demonstrated by the older colt, although neither was the contrary.

J. B. Respass handled Dick Welles last year with the greatest caution. He sent the colt over a mile only once, and that race was only a mile and a furlong. The colt won in a canter, but he had up light weight, and the field opposed to him was not especially brilliant. This season was expected to demonstrate that Dick Welles could go a route, but the colt has not been sent to the post. Evidently Owner Respass considers the animal's reputation too valuable to be impaired through possible lack of fitness. But of Dick Welles' speed there will never be any possible question. His equal in mere speed has never been seen in the west.

With his younger brother hailed as one of the best three-year-olds known to the history of eastern racing, there-what Blngen did as a colt trotter, and five years ago Mr. Knight bred to him his mare Antell, 2:20 1/2, by Antell, 2:12, dam Rowena Sprague, 2:27 1/2, by Governor Sprague, 2:20 1/2. This was a strong combination of performing trotting blood, especially as Rowena Sprague was the dam of three standard performers, and her dam was also a noted producer, having given the turf an equal number.

Mr. Knight's venture in breeding the Antell mare to Blngen was successful, a filly foal being the result, and she is now, at four years of age, being handled for the first time for speed at Terre Haute, where Antell is owned. The filly is called Fricka, and the name is claimed by Mr. Knight to be appropriate for this reason: Fricka was the daughter of a Rhine goddess, and Blngen is on the Rhine. At all events Fricka is fast learning to be a trotter, and with little work has stepped parts of a mile better than a 2:25 gait with such ease as to make it certain she will be something out of the common when her education is completed.

This will be a good season for the Antell family if its members now in training have fair luck.

Fred Moran of Detroit, one of the owners of the stallion, has a three-year-old filly by him, dam Rowena Sprague, which can step it off like a race nag. In Scott Hudson's stable there is a green Antell trotter which has been well entered and is regarded as a sure 2:10 horse before the season ends. Ab Fullager, who is training the Grifina farm horses, also has an Antell in his bunch, and this one is regarded as a certain winner when race day arrives.

The two-year-old trotters at most of the tracks are going well. Millard Sanders worked a couple by Axworthy miles around 2:28 recently, and that rate of speed was not anything near what they are capable of doing if called upon. Sanders, like most trainers who handle two-year-olds, believes in giving them a practical let-up every few weeks by not stepping them up to their limit. Just now the man who drove Lou Dillon to the world's championship is keeping his horses in shape for the grand circuit meetings at which they are named to start.

The management of Charter Oak park, Hartford, Conn., has announced fore, the pair and their dam, Tea's Over, become interesting figures in the thoroughbred world, their sleek, King Eric, being dead. They have a yearling brother that is now at the farm of the owner of Tea's Over, R. H. Anderson of Georgetown, Ky., and a more valuable piece of horseflesh than this little fellow may not be found in America.

John A. Drake bought Ort Wells during the Washington park meeting in 1902 when Dick Welles was just beginning to show the greatness that was in him. It is seldom the purchasing of a full brother turns out as expected, but the Chicago turfman certainly made a fortunate investment, although he probably paid well for it. It will be interesting now to see who will pay the price necessary to purchase the youngster in Kentucky.

A half brother to these three colts is in the stable of R. T. Wilson, Jr. He is by Lamplighter and is named Allumeau.

Nancy Hanks, former champion trotter, owned by New England, has foaled a fine colt by Blngen, and the youngster has been named Malcolm Forbes in honor of the mare's late owner.

When Nancy Hanks sold for about $4,000 at auction a few weeks ago, the purchaser of the mare, Mayor J. M. Johnson of Calais, Me., said that if her foal was a stallion and was born straight and sound he would feel that he had his money's worth in securing a colt by Blngen out of such a mare. It will be recalled that Admiral Dewey, by Blngen and out of Nancy Hanks, trotted to a record of 2:14 1/2 as a three-year-old and that Lord Roberts, her Arion colt, could beat 2:20 last season at two years of age.

That the blood of Blngen is much in demand just now there can be no doubt. The only man the writer knows who owns a Blngen is Secretary Knight of the American Trotting association. He was an early admirer of the eastern stallion on account of the renewal of the famous Charter Oak park $10,000 purse for the 2:20 trotting class. The race will be decided in three heats, each heat being practically a race in itself, and in the event of a dead heat the money will be divided.

The winner of each heat receives $2,000 and the second $800. In the first heat the third horse receives $600 and in the other two heats $500 each. The entry conditions were novel and liberal. The regular entrance was 5 per cent. The winner of each heat contributes 3 per cent, making a total payment of 8 per cent, while the winners of second and third money pay only 1 per cent, or a total of 6 per cent. This is a new and unique division of the burden, making the percentage very light for the second and third horses, while at the same time the first horse fares far better than under the old 5 and 5 per cent plan.

A horse that can win in straight heats will certainly do so, as he will win $1,000 less $450, or net $550, while under the old system he would win $500 less $1,000 entrance, or $1,500 net. But he must win in straight heats. If he drops a heat he cannot recover it later on.

This is a move in the right direction and under this system speculators can bet on heats with a tolerable certainty of getting a race for their money.

The other two purses offered are the Capital City and the Connecticut for $2,500 each. The former is for trotters of the 2:20 class and the latter for 2:20 pacers.

These races will be decided in mile heats, three in five.

SEEKS TO SUE JOHN W. GATES

Attorney Advertis for Men Who Lost Through Financier's Tips.

New York, Aug. 19.—William P. Dewey of this city is advertising for persons who lost money in the Colorado Fuel and Iron through tips received from John W. Gates to join in a suit against Mr. Gates.

Dewey alleges that one of his clients lost $170,000 in the transaction through Gates' tips when about two years ago Gates attempted to get control of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

A close friend of Mr. Gates said: "Mr. Dewey's suit will have no standing in court. John W. Gates did not deceive anybody. He was thoroughly honest in his belief that Colorado Fuel and Iron was a fine property, was himself greatly deceived and lost a whole pile of money through the drop in the stock."
